

RAIN PUTS DAMPER ON BASEBALL PLANS FOR S. A. L. NINES

These are indeed hard days for the baseball managers.

Rain has put the kibosh on the games, and if the present weather continues, it will be a hard matter to play out the schedule. Apparently it was a wise move on the part of the S. A. L. to cut its season down to fifteen games and if present conditions continue they will have difficulty in finishing that number before the snow flies.

All hope of playing today was abandoned at an early hour. Had the sun come out strongly it would not have been possible to play, as the grounds were seas of mud.

Local fans were disappointed that they did not get an opportunity to see the West Baden Sprudels and Richmond teams get together yesterday, but again rain dominated and drove the Sprudels to Cincinnati, where they were booked to play today. It is possible that the Sprudels may return here at a later date.

Richmond Palladium and Sun-Telegram

Saturday, August 21, 1915, Page 6, Column 1