Wickwire Wade and Jenkins Trim Eastern Champions.

(By Cary B. Lewis.)

CHICAGO, Ill., August 21 (Special).— Wickware was in his glory on last Sunday. The way he pitched ball in the first game in the series between the American Giants and the Royal Giants of New York, no team in the major league could have stopped him. He was in form—the best ever. He struck out twelve men and only walked two, 'allowing but three hits. A wonderful record against such a splendid team. The Royals were confident they would win. So was "Rube." It was the the West. . Rooters East against there by the thousands-prices went skyward. The grandstand and boxes were Thousands of people sat benches in the field. Wade Shuts Out Easterners.

Wade followed in the steps of Wickware on Monday in the second contest between the American Giants and the Giants in a battle between the East and the West. Another great game was witnessed and the game went fine until the eighth inning, when the visitors went to pieces and allowed the home boys run in the seventh inning when Barber, with three men on bases and two outs, stole home when Webster muffed the ball at the home plate. Wade, blanked the Easterners with two singles. Three errors, a pass and six singles put over six tallies in the eighth. The game was played fast, taking only one hour and forty minutes. Jenkins was put in as a pinch bitter and got a clean hit, which started the battle in the eight. For a weekday, one of the largest crowds of the season was present. Score:

Same Teams Play Sunday.

The same teams play Sunday. All indications point that the Royals are the best team that has been at the American Gjants' park this season. The Royals are clever ball players, but seem to have a slump at hitting. The public seems to have great confidence in them and is rallying to their support. Enthusiasm for the home players picked up this week. There was not quite as much rooting for the opposite team this week as has been manifested.

So the capitain and manager both look for a good attendance at the game on the above named date. Z___ The games between the Fats and Leans for the benefit of the Cairo colored hospital was played Sunday, Aug. 30. There was not near the crowd that the Fats had expected, because the inclement weather prohibited their coming out. However, the game was played and the Leans won by the score of 9 to 6. The Fats will do better the next time.
